COMPOSITE DESCRIPTION

Portfolios in the Sector Alpha composite are managed using the Sector Alpha Strategy. The Sector Alpha Strategy is a long only strategy seeking to outperform the S&P 500 Total Return Index benchmark. The Sector Alpha Strategy is constructed by investing in the top five economically advantageous U.S. sectors given the current economic environment based on the firm's proprietary economic analysis. The Sector Alpha portfolio analyzes the monthly economic data to determine the individual strength or weakness of the GICS sectors of the S&P 500.

The Sector Alpha strategy is designed to always be fully invested, with the goal of composing a more favorable allocation compared to the overall S&P 500 that provides more upside capture with less risk.

No current or prospective client should assume future performance of any specific investment strategy will be profitable or equal to past performance levels. All investment strategies have the potential for profit or loss. Changes in investment strategies, contributions or withdrawals may cause the performance results of your portfolio to differ materially from the reported composite performance. Different types of investments involve varying degrees of risk, and there can be no assurance that any specific investment will either be suitable or profitable for a client's investment portfolio.

Historical performance results for market indices and/or categories, generally do not reflect the deduction of transaction and/or custodial charges or the deduction of an investment management fee, the incurrence of which would have the effect of decreasing historical performance results. Economic factors, market conditions, and investment strategies will affect the performance of any portfolio and there are no assurances that it will match or outperform any particular benchmark.

Number of portfolios, composite assets, and total firm assets represent end-of-period values.

Reported dispersion numbers represent the equal weighted standard deviation of portfolio gross performance for the subset of accounts managed the entire reporting period. Dispersion is not reported for years with five (5) or less portfolios under management the entire period.

The three-year annualized ex-post standard deviation is calculated using 36 consecutive monthly gross returns for both the composite and the benchmark. The composite uses population calculation for standard deviation.

Total firm assets refer solely to all discretionary accounts managed by Kingsview Investment Management.

Past performance is not indicative of future results.
