CORE PORTFOLIO SERIES – FIRST TRUST®

ACTIVE MEETS PASSIVE

PORTFOLIO CONSTRUCTION

We review the fund family investment choices, from expected returns and correlations to the asset classes the fund family invests in. We understand that any fund family may not provide exposure to all asset classes our capital market assumptions call for. We rely on our fund selection methodology to branch out from the core fund family to provide exposure to best of breed ETFs.

The active portion of the portfolio, using a combination of Actively Managed and AlphaDEX® ETFs, focuses on funds with higher manager ownership, lower expense ratios, and enhanced performance vs. peers. Finally, we screen out for redundancies and overlap in holdings. The passive ETFs used are screened for low expenses and how well they track their designated benchmark.

By marrying the best characteristics of both an active and passive solution, these portfolios attempt to provide the best of both management philosophies.
